

Gwendolyn

Gwendolyn is a very courageous and bright young lady who refuses to give up on the hope of one day being adopted by a family that can love and appreciate her. She is an engaging and well-mannered 15-year-old who loves school and has managed to keep an A and B-grade average. She is in the ROTC and likes to play basketball. Someday she would like to be a police officer. Her hobbies include reading, visiting with her brothers and sister when given the opportunity, shopping at the mall, and talking with her friends. When Gwen can spend time with her siblings you'll see the fun, protective big sister in her. We asked what kind of parents she wants and Gwen replied: "Someone who's a little bit strict... I don't want to get spoiled."

For more information about Gwen, contact:

Lucinda Cadet
(202) 727-2447
lucinda.cadet@dc.gov

The Permanency Opportunities Project is a partnership between DC Child and Family Services Agency and Adoptions Together.